++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Often cloudy with scattered showers, heavy at times.

Today:
A cloudy start for much of the country with scattered showers. These showers will become more widespread by the afternoon and could turn heavy at times with the risk of hail. Feeling less cold. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining showers will ease during the evening to leave a dry night with some clear spells. Winds will remain light allowing for frost and fog patches to form. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
After a bright start for some, cloud will soon build to leave a mixture of scattered showers and sunny spells throughout the day. Feeling milder. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Remaining largely dry for the outlook with sunny spells in the mornings and cloudier by afternoon. Gradually becoming milder, though still cold overnight with frost and fog patches.
